THE NEW FRACTIONAL CURRENCY. The plates for the new fifty-cent notes have been prepared at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing of the Treasury Department. The new note will be about a quarter of an inch shorter than that now in circulation, and a quarter of an inch wider, its dimensions being 3% inches by 2 inches. On the left hand meines by 2 inches. On the left hand side of the face of the note is a vignette head of Samuel Dexter, who was Secretary of the Treasury in 1801, and a former Governor of the State of Massachusetts, and on the right a section of geometrical lathe-work, with the words Fifty Cents, in white letters, engraved across the face. The wording of the note is the same as that of the present issue, with the omission of "receivable for all United states Siamps," which appears at the bettom of the old note. The seal is printed in the center of the face, and is inclosed in cycloidal work, a new feature apon fractional currency. The back of the note, which will be printed in New York, will be green. It is made up of semetrical lathe-work and scroils. On a right hand corner the word "cents," and on the old note, is omitted, and the numeral fifty takes its place. The different printed in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the seal is printed in the center of the seal is printed in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is nucleated in the center of the face, and is n the numeral fifty takes its place. AN ASTONISHING RESORTATION - On Saturday, June 28th, Joseph Huise was botten by a rattlesnake. He encountered a servent, and, wanting one for a friend alo had the rheumatism, the belief of many hereabouts being that snake grease is a cure for it, he chased the snake, is a care for it, he chased the snake, which took refuge in a wood pile, and Hulse seized him by the back of the neck, but so far from the head that it contrived to turn and plant one of its fangs in the index fingure of his right hand. Hulse held fast to his snake nevertheless, stamped his head off, and then spent half an hour looking for white ash leaves, which are believed to be an antidote for poison. He found none to suit him, however, and started for Cornwall. He was bitten at 7, and it was 11 o'clock when he reached the village. At this time the arm and fingure were very much swollen and very gangenous, the action of the heart had almost ceased, and the man seemed like one in a state of intoxication. Dr. Beattickestify out his fineer or was and adin me a state of intoxication. Dr. Benttie hastily cut his finger open, and administered two quarts of whisky in twenty minutes; landanum and quinine were also given in large quantities, and notwithstanding the loss of three half pints of blood from the finger, the pulse increased, and Hulse became perfectly conscious. He is, after eleven days, in apparently good health, with an excelent appetite, but as black as any African.

GEN. JACKSON AND RAILEOADS.—While then Jackson was President of the United States from 1829 to 1857 he was necestomed to travel in his private corrections. The private corrections weight. States from 1829 to 1857 he was accustomed to travel in his private carriage from Washington to his home at the Herman Washington to his home at the Hermaniage, in Tennessee. At all the stopping places on the route the people of the vicinity assembled to great him and hold intendity intercourse together. In the summer of 1836, while passing through the summer of 1836, while passing through the Sales Stables, Stabl the Vailey of Virginia, he stopped to pass the night in a small village in Rockbridge county. As was his custom, he had a see him. Railroads at that day were few, and the people were taiking and speculating on their success and medical point of their success and medical point of their success and medical point of their success and medical points. pon their success and usefulness. Gen. Jackson told his hearers that they would succeed, and become very popular, and turning to several young men present, he said: Young men, you will live to see the day when these roads will become n present, he great monopolies, controlling the State Legislatures, and even Congress itself; in fact, they will be worse than the United

A SIMPLE REMEDY. - Dr. Blower, of Liverpool, states that he has for the past Liverpool, states that he has for the past twenty years employed compressed sponge very successfully in the treatment of ingrowing nails. His method is to render the sponge compact by wetting and then tying it tightly until it is thoroughly dry. A bit of this sponge in size less than a grain of rice, is placed under the nail and secured by strips of achethe nail and secured by strips of ache-sive plaster. In this way the point of the nail is kept from the toe until the surrounding soft parts are restored to heir normal condition by appropriate means. Of course, there is no pain in the remedy, and its application requires only ordinary skill only ordinary skill.
